9. Type direct_address on the text box at the top of the Layers panel. Text that displays its address is called _text_. Photoshop calls the type of text you use "rich text," "rich text format" (RTF), or sometimes just "rtf." By default, all text in Photoshop is rtf. 10. Click the New Layer button on the Layers panel to place a new, blank layer above the Background layer. Photoshop creates a new layer for you. 11. Choose Window → History. The History panel appears, as shown in Figure 4-6. Figure 4-6. The History panel lists all the steps you've taken with a tool in a series. You can jump to different steps in the past or future by clicking the arrows at the right edge of the panel. You can even delete past versions of layers from the Layers panel. The History panel is where Photoshop stores the layers, palettes, and brushes you've created. It's also where you can edit a layer to add effects such as drop shadows, change the color of a photo, or create _composites_ (multi-layered images that combine different photos) and more.

Q: Merge two pandas dataframes on condition in python I have two pandas dataframes. I need to find two column which are matching in both two dataframes and then merge the dataframes under a condition. Table 1. Col1 Col2 A 1 B 2 A 4 C 7 A 9 Table 2. Col1 Col2 A 1 B 2 I need to match the column 1 values between the two dataframes as shown below. Table 3 Col1 Col2 A 1 A 4 B 2 C 7 A 9 A: Use DataFrame.merge with left join, parameter on= parameter for check if all DataFrame are matched. Then make some change of one DataFrame for make not matched: df = pd.merge(table2, table1, left_on='Col

7-2, the electronic spectra of tetryl cation, tetryl-1,1,3,3-tetra-perchlorate, tetryl-1,1,3,3-tetra-oxalate, and tetryl-1,1,3,3-tetrakis[(dimethylamino)methyl]oxalate were investigated. The general trends and features of the spectra are listed. 9-(Diethylamino)-1,1,3,3-tetrachloro-1-benzopyrrolo-[5,6-b]indole (BBI), which has been shown previously to be a potent photosensitizer in a "pure" singlet excited state, is investigated in the present work. The values of the spectroscopic constants for BBI are listed in the text. The effects of the acid-base or metal-ligand complexing interactions on the electronic states of these complexes were investigated by comparing the theoretical data with the experimentally observed spectra and with the available molecular structure-photophysical correlation data. Some tentative assignments are made for the excited electronic states of these complexes. For example, assignments of the lowest excited state for tetryl cation (lambdaE1), tetryl-1,1,3,3-tetrakis[(dimethylamino)methyl]oxalate (lambdaE1), and tetryl-1,1,3,3-tetraoxalate (lambdaE1) are made.Q: What is the advantage of a nail mesh over a square mesh? Usually, when a nail mesh is used, the needle distributes itself mainly on the upper side of the mesh. So, are there any advantages of a nail mesh over a square mesh in square mesh frames? A: Nail mesh is a standard type of mesh. There is no advantage or disadvantages other than the usual. Nail is very strong so it's not necessary to put any type of specially-shaped fabrics over it or anything like that. A: The advantage would be: Because of it being a more massive mesh, there would be better rigidity. Think about the effect of a rectangle or square on a piece of flat metal. When set in-place, it is mostly parallel with the adjacent metal. So, if you
